

Industrial Accident Investigation

Overview

Posener HS&E Group has highly competent, qualified industrial accident investigators that are readily available to carry out industrial accident investigations.

All Posener HS&E Group accident and investigators are accredited members of the Institute of Industrial Accident Investigators (MIIAI), an Institute that is well known to and respected by all key health and safety bodies within the UK, such as the Health and Safety Executive.

All investigations are supported by our investigators providing clients with a comprehensive accident and investigation report that can be used to support clients' statutory and regulatory duties.

In addition to the above, our consultants are readily available to provide health, safety and environmental training, guidance and mentoring to support the output from any industrial accident investigations.
